

Chris Martin Atlantic challenge fundraiser

The countdown to Chris Martin's heroic attempt to take the world record for rowing single handed across the Atlantic, is well and truly underway. With the support of his main sponsor, Stappard Howes, Chris is dedicating all his time not spent training, raising the additional funds he needs for his attempt.

We joined him at his first fund raising event, a launch party held at Molesley Rowing club. Friends, family and his sponsors turned out in force to raise over £1,000 towards his goal.
